

Thursday, November 8, 2007

Indiana Convention Center
Indianapolis, IN

Join us for the most exciting day in Indiana entrepreneurship

Indiana Entrepreneurship & Innovation Day, is an action-packed day designed to connect entrepreneurs and investors in unique and interactive ways.

Highlights of the day include:

Collegiate Idol Competition is a first-ever event featuring some of Indiana's brightest future entrepreneurs with big ideas competing for real cash prizes in front of panel of investors and a live audience. (8:00 – 11:30 am)

Interactive Workshops addressing key issues for both new and growing entrepreneurial companies including sources of money, what to expect from investors, partnership and procurement opportunities with state, federal and corporate buyers, and business succession planning. (8:00 – 4:00 pm)

Special Entrepreneurship Luncheon with the Venture Club of Indiana featuring Guy Kawasaki, the co-founder of Truemors and a managing director of Garage Technology Ventures in Silicon Valley. Guy is also a columnist for Entrepreneur Magazine, a nationally recognized entrepreneur, innovator and author of "Rules for Revolutionaries" and "The Art of the Start". (12 noon)

Venture Idol Competition is back after its extremely successful debut in 2005 and will showcase 20 of Indiana's most exciting new companies with market changing innovations competing for cash prizes. A live audience of investors and business executives will vote on the winners. (2:00-5:30 pm)

Innovation Showcase Reception is an opportunity to see and meet up to 100 of Indiana's most promising innovation-driven emerging companies as well as Venture Capital and Angel investors all in one location. (Immediately following Venture Idol)

The entire day's exciting events are provided at no cost by the generous support of several corporate partners.

For more information and to register visit www.techpoint.org/iedcday

For questions call Linda Peterson-Roe at 317-234-4652

